

Position: assistant/associate/full professor in Operations Management

Position reference number: MSE20163

The School of Business, Renmin University of China, invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in Operations Management (OM).

Qualifications: Candidates applying for the assistant professor position must have earned a Ph.D. in OM or related disciplines from a top 50 school before August 2017. Candidates should demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and research, and are expected to publish in top journals of the OM field. Candidates applying for the associate or full professor position must have an excellent record of publications.

About the University and the School: the Renmin University of China is a top-tier research-orientated university located in Beijing. The School of Business is ranked No.1 by the Ministry of Education for its Business Administration discipline in China. It is an AACSB and EQUIS Accredited school. It offers an array of bachelors, masters, doctoral, MBA and executive education programs. RBS attracts faculty members and students from worldwide. It also offers an ideal environment for studying innovation and entrepreneurship due to its location close to Zhongguancun, the most energetic high-tech industrial development zone in China.

The compensation package (including salary, relocation fund, and fringe benefits) will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications. In addition, the School supports high-quality research with generous research grants. Due to its strong alumni network and close relationship with business communities, the School also provides its faculty opportunities to collaborate with practitioners from the industry.

How to apply: please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, one or two sample research papers, teaching evaluations (if available), and a list of three referees to the following contact. Please clearly indicate the position with the reference number you wish to apply in the application letter.

Other vacant faculty positions in Department of Management Science and Engineering are available on the website below:

http://2010.rbs.org.cn/templates/T\_eng\_new\_list/index.aspx?nodeid=283

Ms. Pei Zhou

recruitment@rbs.org.cn

(8610)82509061