

Position Description

The Department of Management at Baylor University's Hankamer School of Business is accepting applications for one tenure-track position in operations management. The successful candidate will teach two classes each semester in operations management or project management and maintain a vigorous research agenda targeted at top-tier management journals. Applicants will be expected to make a commitment to excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service, as well as maintaining status as a Scholarly Academic faculty member under AACSB International standards. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Baylor University is a private Christian university and a nationally ranked research institution, consistently listed with highest honors among The Chronicle of Higher Education's "Great Colleges to Work For." Chartered in 1845 by the Republic of Texas through the efforts of Baptist pioneers, Baylor is the oldest continuously operating university in Texas. The university provides a vibrant campus community for over 16,000 students from all 50 states and more than 80 countries by blending interdisciplinary research with an international reputation for educational excellence and a faculty commitment to teaching and scholarship. Baylor is actively recruiting new faculty with a strong commitment to the classroom and an equally strong commitment to discovering new knowledge as we pursue our Illuminate strategic plan (www.baylor.edu/illuminate).

Qualifications

Candidates should possess an earned doctorate in operations management/supply chain management or a related field of study.

Anticipated appointment date
