

Schulich School of Business, York University, Toronto Canada

Consistently ranked in the top tier of the world's best business schools and #1 in Canada, the Schulich School of Business is known for its global reach, innovative programming and the diversity of its student body, faculty and staff. Schulich enrolls some 3,000 students in undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate business degree programs leading to careers in the private, public and not-for-profit sectors. Located in Toronto, Canada, the School's multimillion-dollar, award-winning complex is on York University's main campus. Schulich's downtown Miles S. Nadal Management Centre is situated in the heart of the city's financial district.

Gordon Charlton Shaw Professorship in Management Science

The Schulich School of Business is seeking an outstanding scholar for the endowed position of Gordon Charlton Shaw Professor in Management Science at the rank of Associate or Full Professor, effective July 1, 2018, or as soon as possible thereafter. Applications are invited from candidates with demonstrated outstanding research and teaching in at least one of the sub-areas, namely, Supply Chain Management, Data Analytics, Operations Management or Information Systems.

Candidates will have a PhD in Operations Management, Information Systems or a related field. Preference will be given to candidates who are able to effectively communicate with both undergraduate and senior managerial audiences in graduate and executive education settings; supervise PhD students; teach in either the Masters of Business Analytics Program or the proposed Masters of Supply Chain Management Program, as well as in the BBA, MBA and PhD Programs; have demonstrated outstanding research and scholarship evidenced by publications in relevant top-tier journals, and preferably those journals in the Financial Times 50 group; demonstrable evidence of teaching effectiveness and experience in curriculum development; and be eligible for prompt appointment to the Faculty of Graduate Studies. Pedagogical innovation in high priority areas such as experiential education and technology enhanced learning is an asset.

Applicants should e-mail an application letter, curriculum vitae, samples of research papers, three signed letters of reference, and information regarding teaching to: Professor Richard Irving, Area Coordinator, Operations Management and Information Systems, Schulich School of Business, York University, at omis-hire@schulich.yorku.ca – (Subject line: “Gordon Charlton Shaw Professor position”).

Deadline for applications is December 15, 2017.

Salary and Benefits are competitive. All York University positions are subject to budgetary approval. York University is an Affirmative Action (AA) employer and strongly values diversity, including gender and sexual diversity, within its community. The AA Program, which applies to Aboriginal people, visible minorities, people with disabilities, and women, can be found on the York web site at www.yorku.ca/acadjobs or a copy can be obtained by calling the Affirmative Action office at 416 736 5713. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian Citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.