SCHOOL of BUSINESS

VISITING FACULTY POSITION IN OPERATIONS

OVERVIEW: The Wake Forest University School of Business is seeking qualified candidates for a 2016-2017 (full academic year) visiting faculty appointment in Operations Management. The primary responsibility would be to teach the core, introductory course in Operations Management and Quantitative Analysis, in addition to an elective course in Supply Chain Management, all in our Undergraduate Program. Consideration will also be given to those candidates who are able to teach in one-semester only (Fall or Spring). Candidates with interest at the interface between Operations-Marketing are especially encouraged to apply. The School of Business hosts the Center for Retail Innovation (<http://business.wfu.edu/cri/>), and there are opportunities for suitable candidates to participate in industry-sponsored research projects. Candidates for Visiting Teaching Professor need a PhD (or its equivalent) in Business or a related field while candidates for Visiting Professor of the Practice should have a Master's Degree in Business or a related field and 10+ years of industry experience. The position offers a highly competitive package of compensation and benefits.

JOB QUALIFICATIONS: Wake Forest University has a long tradition of excellence in teaching, and the ideal candidate should demonstrate an ability to contribute to the teaching quality of the School of Business. The School of Business focuses on educating the whole person with our faculty members facilitating students' acquisition of deep conceptual knowledge, their attainment of a broad set of professional competencies, and their development of a clear sense of professional identity and character. Therefore, we seek student-centric colleagues who subscribe to this holistic educational philosophy, serve as exemplary role models, and can demonstrate a commitment to teaching courses that develop students in all three of these areas.
