

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS AT URBANA-CHAMPAIGN
College of Business
Department of Business Administration
Non-Tenure Track (Open Rank) Position in Supply Chain Management

The Department of Business Administration invites applications for a regular, full-time, open rank, non-tenure track faculty position to teach undergraduate courses in the Supply Chain Management program. Proposed start date is August 16, 2018. Salary is competitive and commensurate with rank and experience.

The position may be at the rank of Instructor, Clinical Professor, Lecturer, or Teaching Professor, depending on candidate's education and experience. A graduate degree and extensive professional experience are required for Instructor and Clinical positions. A Ph.D., completed by the starting date, supply chain management or operations management, or related field is required for Lecturer and Teaching professor positions. We seek candidates who have an active program of teaching in supply chain management and who demonstrate excellence in the classroom at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Experience and/or interest in online teaching is desirable.

The Department of Business Administration at the University of Illinois is a major teaching and research unit located within the College of Business, which also contains the Departments of Accountancy and Finance. The Department of Business Administration has approximately 50 full-time faculty and offers undergraduate, professional, and doctoral programs. It includes the areas of marketing, operations management, organizational behavior, strategic management and entrepreneurship, international business and business law, and information systems. Additional information about the Department, our programs and faculty may be found at <https://business.illinois.edu/ba/>.

In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by January 15, 2017. Interviews may take place and offers may be made before the closing date, but all applications received by the closing date will receive full consideration for an open position. Applications and supplemental materials must be submitted online at <https://jobs.illinois.edu>. Application materials must include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, evidence of past teaching success, names and contact information for three professional references. For further information regarding application procedures, contact Rebecca Heid at heid@illinois.edu or (217) 333-9396.

Some of our faculty will be attending the 2017 INFORMS Annual Meeting (October 22-25) and 2017 Annual Meeting of the Decision Sciences Institute (November 18-21). If you would like to be considered for a meeting at either of these conferences, please submit your application at least two weeks before the conference start date.

The University of Illinois conducts criminal background checks and other required pre-employment assessments on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer.

The University of Illinois is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. For more information, visit <http://go.illinois.edu/EO>. To learn more about the University's commitment to diversity, please visit <http://www.inclusiveillinois.illinois.edu>.