

The Pennsylvania State University

Tenure Track Position in Supply Chain Management Department of Supply Chain & Information Systems (SC&IS) Smeal College of Business

The SC&IS Department of the Smeal College of Business at The Pennsylvania State University (University Park, PA) invites applications for a faculty position in Supply Chain Management at the assistant professor level. The preferred candidate will have outstanding research abilities and teaching experience. The position would begin Fall 2019. Salary is competitive.

Candidates must have a doctorate degree (granted or near completion) in supply chain management or related field and a strong commitment to research and teaching excellence. Faculty members are expected to maintain an active research program, perform undergraduate and graduate teaching, supervise graduate students, and engage in service activities. Particularly desirable are candidates with a record of high-quality research and instruction in a student-centered environment, an engaged interest in collaborative learning environments, and an enthusiasm for working in a diverse and multidisciplinary intellectual environment.

The SC&IS Department comprises a vibrant, research-active faculty with specific research and teaching interests that run the gamut from strategic procurement to logistics and distribution, from manufacturing and services strategy to retail operations, from sustainable supply chains to behavioral operations management, from health care management to decision analytics. We seek a candidate who would complement these interests while adding depth through scope or methodology.

The Smeal College of Business offers a collegial working environment and excellent campus facilities. The SC&IS Department (www.smeal.psu.edu/scis) also has strong connections with the business community through research centers that provide opportunities to interface with faculty across various disciplines within Smeal and across Penn State. For more information, please visit www.smeal.psu.edu/research-centers.
