

The Leif Östling professorship in Industrial Production Management

KTH Royal Institute of Technology, School of Industrial Engineering and Management (Sweden)

Application Deadline: 27th March 2016

For information regarding the position and the application procedure please visit the webpage:

<https://www.kth.se/en/om/work-at-kth/lediga-jobb/what:job/jobID:82213/where:4/>

This position is a part of larger development at KTH within the field of Sustainable Production. In total four faculty positions are now open for application: 1 Professor, 2 Associate Professors and 1 Assistant professor: The Leif Östling Professorship in Industrial Production Management, Associate Professor in Production Systems Technology, Associate Professor in Sustainable Production and Assistant Professor in Operative Industrial Production Control. More information regarding the research areas and to find all the job postings, please follow the link below:

www.kth.se/en/sustainableindustry