

The UCLA Anderson School of Management is seeking a visitor (level to be determined based upon experience) for the winter quarter of 2018, to teach several sections of our Operations and Technology Management core course in the MBA program. Applicants should have or be close to earning their PhD degree, and should have a successful record teaching similar courses for MBA students. The course runs from early January through mid-March 2018, and is taught twice a week.

Please send application materials (CV and evidence of teaching record) to Professor Charles Corbett, charles.corbett@anderson.ucla.edu. We will start reviewing applications immediately and will continue reviewing applications until the position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.