Assistant Professor of Operations and Supply Chain Management School of Business Administration University of Houston-Victoria

UHV's School of Business Administration invites applications for a tenure-track opening in Operations and Supply Chain Management at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning fall 2018 at our central campus in Victoria, TX. Our AACSB International and SACSDOC accredited programs include a Bachelor of Business Administration with several concentrations including supply chain management, and two graduate programs, the Strategic MBA and the Global MBA, offering graduate courses in operations and supply chain management. Undergraduate enrollment is over 1000 students, and combined graduate enrollments total nearly 600.

Required qualifications: The position requires an earned doctorate from an AACSB accredited university; ABDs with confirmed completion within a few months also will be considered. Junior appointments must demonstrate strong potential for research and teaching effectiveness. Senior appointments require an excellent track-record in research, teaching, and service.

Preferred qualifications: Priority will be given to candidates prepared to operations and supply chain management courses (i.e. operations management, logistics, global supply chain, and project management), and undergraduate strategy or business and environment classes as a secondary area.

Position Summary: The appointment is a nine month, tenure track position with the following responsibilities: teach 9 hours per semester of predominantly undergraduate courses face-to-face in Victoria; pursue high quality scholarly activity; participate in course and program development; perform university and professional service; work cooperatively with diverse groups; perform other duties as assigned by the dean and the chair; and work with and be sensitive to the educational needs of a diverse student population and faculty. Summer research is supported for the first year for new faculty, and summer teaching and competitive research/teaching grants will usually be available in subsequent years. Because of our outreach mission to serve the larger Texas Gulf Coast area, the position also may require occasional online teaching and travel to our UHV Katy location. For more information about our programs and mission, please see www.uhv.edu.

Applicants must submit an application online at and include:

- 1) a cover letter explaining the applicant's teaching and research qualifications;
- 2) a current curriculum vitae with a list of peer reviewed research publications and scholarly activities
- 3) evidence of effective teaching (including student evaluations, if available);
- 4) complete contact information for each of your references (one must be your Chair, if you are ABD).
- 5) copies of all college transcripts and official transcripts will be required of all finalists, and recommendation letters will be requested as needed.

Review of applications will begin on Jan. 5, 2018.

Victoria, Texas, an historic city located in the heart of the Golden Crescent of South Texas, is perfectly situated for anyone who enjoys outdoor activities. Victoria's warm climate keeps parks and lakes alive with activity most of the year. Riverside Park's 565 acres features a rose garden, fishing the Guadalupe River, playing disc golf, and paddling the Victoria Paddling Trail. A Closer Look at UHV

City Location

The University of Houston-Victoria is located in Victoria, Texas, the commerce and entertainment center of the Texas Coastal Bend region. Pioneer charm and high-tech industry mingle in the city of 62,000 inhabitants near the Gulf of Mexico on a popular coastal route between Houston and Mexico. Victoria is within a two-hour drive from Houston, Austin, Corpus Christi and San Antonio. As the third-oldest chartered city in Texas, Victoria has many beautiful, historic Victorian structures and homes. Additionally, Victoria's economy has grown to become the regional hub for neighboring businesses and industries.

UHV Location

The University of Houston-Victoria shares a campus with the Victoria College. The UHV campus includes the University Center, completed in spring 2000, which contains classrooms, offices, and media and computer labs, and University West, which houses classrooms and faculty and administrative offices. In 2004, a 14,000-square-foot expansion to the University West building was completed. The Jaguar Hall and Jaguar Court residence halls for underclassmen are a short, 10-minute walk to the main campus.

History

In the 1960s, the citizens of the Victoria area realized that greater opportunities were needed in higher education. No institution within a hundred-mile radius offered baccalaureate and master's degrees. Many junior college students and graduates in the region wanted to continue studying beyond an associate degree, and a growing number of people who had bachelor's degrees were anxious to pursue master's degrees. To meet those needs, UHV opened in 1973.

Accreditation

UHV is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award bachelor's and master's degrees.

Role and Scope

The University of Houston-Victoria is one of four universities in the University of Houston System. The primary role of UHV is to provide undergraduate and graduate instruction to students within and beyond the Texas Coastal Bend region.

Organization

UHV is governed by a Board of Regents and the Chancellor of the University of Houston System. Administrative responsibility is vested in the UHV President.

Offerings

The University of Houston-Victoria, located in the heart of the Coastal Bend region, offers courses leading to approximately 60 degree programs and concentrations in the schools of Arts & Sciences, Business Administration, and Education, Health Professions, and Human Development. A faculty of experts at UHV gives students individual attention to help them succeed, whether learning in a classroom or online. UHV offers face-to-face classes at two UH System teaching centers in Fort Bend County, in addition to its home campus in Victoria, and online courses that students can take anywhere. Since its founding in 1973, UHV has provided students with quality university education from exceptional faculty at a great value.
