Assistant and Associate Professor

Location: University of Warwick Campus, Coventry
Department: Warwick Business School
Sub Department: WBS - Operations Group
Position Type: Full Time, Permanent
Salary: Competitive

About the Role

For informal enquiries, please contact Pietro Micheli (Professor) at Pietro.Micheli@wbs.ac.uk

This post is being advertised at Associate and Assistant Professor level.

WBS is a research-led, triple-accredited university-based business school with a portfolio of world-class programmes.

We look for outstanding academics to join our faculty and are now inviting applications for Associate and Assistant professor in operations management. We are particularly interested in empirically oriented applicants with a distinctive ability in carrying out interesting and relevant research. We will favour candidates who focus on organizational problems of contemporary relevance adopting a process perspective in subjects such as supply chain management, performance improvement, environmental and social issues in operations, strategic alignment and operations strategy, performance measurement and management, service operations, innovation, and technology management.

About You

Associate Professor

Candidates with strong and productive networks of outstanding scholars, and substantial leadership experience in research, and teaching and learning, are encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will be able to demonstrate the ability to publish consistently in leading research journals and show the potential for promotion to Professor.

Assistant Professor

Applicants should have completed or be near the completion of doctoral studies in operations management or a closely related discipline. They should be able to pursue their own independent research, demonstrate the potential to publish in world leading journals in operations management and beyond, and be able to deliver excellent teaching in operations management at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

About the Department

Successful candidates will join a growing group of scholars, who enjoy working together in a collegiate, supportive, and developmental environment. We are passionate about our research, teaching, and impact and engagement activities, and have built considerable reputation through publishing research in top journals. We are proud of a group culture based on a developmental, inclusive, supportive, and positive approach, and one that values feedback, teamwork, transparency, and discussion. Our goal is to provide an excellent environment for positive, talented, and enthusiastic researchers to achieve career and personal goals.
