

University of St.Gallen

«A place where knowledge is created» – As a leading business university we set global standards for research and teaching by promoting integrative thought, responsible action, and an entrepreneurial spirit of innovation in business and society.

Full Professorship in Logistics and Supply Chain Management (100%)

The University of St.Gallen and its School of Management are seeking candidates for a Full Professorship in the field of Logistics and Supply Chain Management. The triple accredited (EQUIS, AACSB, AMBA) university offers a stimulating and well-equipped research environment with a large network ranging from start-ups, small businesses to large firms to engage in field studies.

We are seeking a colleague with a strong focus on contemporary and future challenges in logistics and supply chain management. Emphasis should be placed on one or more of the following aspects: management of global supply chain networks, technology integration and transformation, sustainability as well as procurement. The ideal candidate should demonstrate expertise in these areas and be capable of developing and researching innovative approaches and solutions to challenges in logistics and supply chain management. We are looking for experienced candidates with an internationally recognized research record in leading journals in the field of management, strong ties with industry, and excellent teaching skills on all levels, including executive education.

According to our claim “From insight to impact”, the future colleague should convey scientific knowledge with societal relevance to students and have a significant impact on theory and practise. The capability and willingness to join the executive board of an institute is a mandatory requirement. In addition, leading a research team, scholarly commitment and acquiring external funds are an important part of the position.

Our university is an inclusive institution that aims to foster diversity on campus. We specifically encourage women and applicants with backgrounds underrepresented among our current faculty to apply.

The University's administrative language is German. If the successful candidate has no prior knowledge of German, he or she will be expected to acquire a passive knowledge of the language within two years.

We seek to fill the position per August 1st, 2025, or by mutual agreement. For further information, please contact Prof. Dr. Reinhard Jung, Chairman of the Search Committee and Dean of the School of Management (facultyposition@unisg.ch).

University of St.Gallen

The application should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching and research statement, list of publications, list of acquired funds, and identification of two publications that best represent your current research. Candidates should submit their application to the President of the University of St.Gallen, Prof. Dr. Manuel Ammann, online via www.unisg.ch/professorships at the latest by October 25th, 2024.