School of Business Administration
Department of Marketing and Information Systems
Sharjah, United Arab Emirates (UAE)

FACULTY POSITION IN SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT: The Department of Marketing and Information Systems at American University of Sharjah invites applicants for a full-time faculty position in supply chain management at the rank of Assistant Professor. The successful candidate is expected to contribute to the department's research activities, teaching and service. While we welcome applications from academics with a variety of supply chain management (SCM) backgrounds, we are particularly interested in candidates with an interest and/or expertise in teaching sourcing and procurement, logistics and distribution, and digital supply chain technologies and analytics. The salary is competitive, commensurate with experience, and tax-free in the UAE. Free housing, paid utilities and other attractive benefits are provided.

JOB QUALIFICATIONS: All candidates must have a PhD degree in management information systems (MIS) or a related field from an AACSB-accredited university, preferably North American. Assistant professors must have a promising research potential and/or evidence of publications. A successful candidate should be able to teach at both the undergraduate and graduate level.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: To apply, please email (a) a cover letter explaining your interest in the position; (b) your curriculum vita, which must include your teaching experience, list of publications/work-in-progress, as well as the contact information of at least three references; and (c) your teaching philosophy to Ms. Cristina Rompe, Administrative Assistant, Department of Marketing and Information Systems, at hodofmktis@aus.edu. Additional documents will be solicited from shortlisted candidates.

Review of applicants will begin in November 2024. Interviews will begin in January 2025. The position will remain open until filled. The successful candidate is expected to start in August 2025.
